KS1 have been working very hard this week. Seahorse class had their first Forest school session, which they really enjoyed. We used a map to identify areas within Forest school and created some crafts. We also used a magnifying glass to identify the different insects we could find. In Geography we have been looking at the weather in the UK and we kept a weather diary for a week to see the different types of weather we can have.

Record this weeks weather. Draw a picture of the weather and use your rain gauge to measure the rain.

This week, Sting Ray class have been investigating which materials are electrical conductors or insulators. The children worked in pairs and included a range of materials in their circuit to see if the bulb would still light up. Metal and copper were the best conductors.
