Langford Village Academy pupils take on Building Buddies project

Pupils start a year of activity in building

Pupils in Langford are taking on a building project with help from a local developer.

David Wilson Homes has begun its new school award scheme at Langford Village Academy as over 60 children look forward to an academic year long project.

The Building Buddies Award is being hosted at the school close to the homebuilder's Kingsley Manor development.

Year 3 and 4 pupils have now been presented with their workbooks by Jennifer, the sales adviser at Kingsley Manor, as they prepare for the first activity of naming a development and designing a logo.

They will also learn about planning, sales and marketing, and more.

Workbooks ready: David Wilson Homes' sales adviser Jennifer with the pupils of Langford Village Academy

We had an extremely busy but enjoyable half term before the holiday. Some of the highlights included the Harvest Festival in the Church, designing and making Viking longboats and learning all about light and shadows. We also began our 'Building Buddies' programme in collaboration with David Wilson Homes: this article appeared in the Biggleswade Chronicle. Later in the year the children will be able to visit one of the building sites.

Mathematics

This half term we will be focusing on multiplication and division before moving on to some work on Fractions.

English

In English we are finishing our non-fiction texts on African animals before moving on to some Image Poetry and a unit on Fables.

Science Day

We all had a great time on Science Day. We took part in the 'Body Assault Course' to find out the function of the bones in our body and what they are called; had fun mixing oil, water and food colouring for 'Fireworks in a glass' and made art from Autumn leaves in different stages of losing their chlorophyll.
